Jacksonville, Fla. – For fans of John Cusack and High Fidelity, a visit to Championship Vinyl would definitely make a “top five” list. Join Hollywood icon JOHN CUSACK when he makes his way to The Florida Theatre for a live conversation and audience Q&A on Thursday, July 25 at 7:30pm.

With four decades' worth of roles in over 70 films, John Cusack will share stories from his career, answer audience questions, and give a behind-the-scenes look into High Fidelity, following a screening of the iconic film. Tickets are on-sale Friday, Feb. 1 at 10am at floridatheatre.com or by calling 904.355.2787. The hit comedy High Fidelity is the story of record shop owner Rob Gordon (John Cusack) on a search for love (and the reasons behind his failed relationships) against a backdrop of over 70 songs spanning multiple decades and genres of music.

With – or without – the help of his record store buddies Dick (Todd Luiso) and Barry (Jack Black's breakout role), Rob revisits past relationships in hopes of figuring out where he has gone wrong. Released in 2000, The New York Times praised John Cusack as "a master at easygoing camaraderie." Rotten Tomatoes has High Fidelity ranked #14 on the list of Best Romantic Comedies.
